Notes

A lot of functional requirements. Make it maintainable (merge requirements).

Higher management should be able to see general statistics for future decisions, not too detailed. Maybe it is better to not give them the ability to adjust employee information.

Administration is responsible for depot and employee. They can see/do what logistics and HR see as well. Make sure this is well explained in the agreements.

Adjust information for sales representative is fine to keep in, client will give input on it later.

We are allowed to have a small talk with our client about the administration.

Advise to make diagrams, not mandatory. Try to make it easy for yourself.

Teachers will ask to deliver everything in the end, but not everything is a deliverable.

Try to start with the UML and database diagram this week.
